In the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, Dr. Gary Michelson founded the Michelson Found Animals Foundation (MFA) in 2005 to address the need for a free, national microchipping registry, to help every lost pet find its way home. In the years since, MFA has continued identifying problems facing pets and people and is creating real-world, scalable solutions to keep pets and people together.

Teaming up with the Human Animal Bond Research Institute (HABRI), MFA commissioned a much-needed survey to understand the issues better and find the right solutions to keep animals with their owners.

From these findings, the Pet-Inclusive Housing Initiative (PIHI) has developed resources and partnerships that support pet owners, as well as showcase the value of pet-friendly rental housing to rental owners and operators, making housing accessible for all pets and their families.

The PIHI Report highlights the benefits of pet-inclusive rental housing by sharing new data and market-based solutions that benefit all – so operators, residents, and communities win together.
