

Successful Pet Parenting in Housing A Pet Parent's Guide to Dog-Friendly Living

Walk Responsibly

- Use a 6-foot leash: Avoid retractables for better control in shared spaces.
- Choose gentle gear: Skip prong/choke collars—opt for harnesses with Martingale collars.
- Always supervise: Keep your dog on-leash and in your control outdoors.

Insurance = Peace of Mind

- Get renters insurance with pet liability: Covers potential damage or injury.
- List your landlord as "Additional Insured": Shows accountability and builds trust.
- Breed-neutral policies exist: Shop around for pet-inclusive renters insurance providers.

Enrichment & Training

- Stimulate daily: Use toys, sniffing games, and problem-solving activities.
- Try food puzzles: Mealtime can be a fun mental challenge.
- Turn routines into training: Reinforce manners through consistent, positive practice.

Separation Anxiety: Know the Signs

- What to watch for: Barking, chewing, or accidents when left alone.
- Ease the transition: Start with short absences and gradually build duration.
- Create a safe zone: A cozy bed and toys in a quiet area can reduce stress.

Basic Dog Care

- Nutrition & hydration: Offer balanced meals and clean water daily.
- Grooming matters: Regular care keeps your dog healthy and clean.
- Understand body language: Learn their cues to support their well-being.
- Positive training only: Use treats, praise, and consistency—avoid punishment tools.

Bonus Tip

A well-socialized, quiet, and polite dog is your best reference for future housing. Be the neighbor others appreciate!
